

YOU'RE A LOVELY GIRL

T'was on a beautiful day, In busy Sligo town

A sailor spied a lovely girl in the street where she was shopping around

And he looked at her, and he walked her way

But then she turned and said to him is there something to me you do want to say and he said to her

CHORUS

You're a lovely girl, You're a lovely girl

You're a love, love, love, love love

You're a lovely Sligo girl

T'was on a beautiful day, In lovely Sligo town

A sailor asked the girl come with me to my ship to sail the world around

And she looked at him, and she shakes her head

Never I will go with a stranger to his ship to sail the world, she said, but he said to her

CHORUS

T'was on a beautiful day, In sunny Sligo town,

A sailor said to a girl come with me to listen to the ocean sounds

No ocean for me, in Sligo I'll stay

And then she left the sailor in the street with his dreams and went her own way. Still she heard him say

CHORUS

Somewhere in Sligo town, on a beautiful day There walked a lonely man, very sad and in tears

Whose love had gone away

Whose love had gone away

Whose love had gone away

Whose love had gone away

Jan Hamelink. Januari 2014